

A Friend Is

a tissue when you can't stop crying a shoulder when you feel like dying always listens when you have something to say a week when you just need a day a crutch when you have a broken heart some glue when everything falls apart a sun when the rain just won't stop your mom when you run into a cop phone call when you can't leave your home hand when you feel all alone wing if you want to fly understands without knowing why an ear for a secret to tell an aspirin when you feel unwell a love that can never let go

I cherish those moments of our Friendship I shared with you!!!
